'Spring Picnic Day to Wolchulsan Mountain in Gangjin' is held over two days. On the first day, beginning with the opening ceremony, opening performances, invitation performances and various performances and events are held. On the second day is the spring picnic trekking to the Wolchulsan Mountain. The spring picnic trekking consists of romantic experiencing courses with cultural heritage commentators to the Gangjin Tea Garden, Anun Village, Baekundong Garden Village, Lee Han-yeong birthplace, Wolnamsa Temple and Moonlight Hanok Village.

Gangjin Tea Garden, one of the major trekking courses, is a healing destination where the beautiful scenery of light green tea plantation heals you from even looking at it. Strange rocks of Wolchulsan Mountain from the tea garden look beautiful and mysterious. An old saying has it that good tea is produced from a beautiful mountain, and Wolchulsan Mountain Gangjin tea garden, located at the southern valley of Wolchulsan Mountain, also known as 'salty lake of Honam', has conditions for tea plantation such as large temperature differences at night and day and foggy climate and therefore, the tea produced here has less acidity and strong fragrance.
